The Director opined that the current PFIAB has been more active than those in the past primarily because the members have not been able to focus on any specific problems. In response to the Director's request, various members of the staff meeting gave their recent experiences with the current PFIAB. [ ] said that Admiral Moorer had contacted him regarding PFIAB assistance for FOIA. [ ] said he had deferred the question of FOIA per the Director's instructions. The Director noted that having PFIAB appear to act as a lobbyist for CIA on FOIA would tend to destroy the PFIAB credibility. [ ] noted that PFIAB had called the Chief of the Audit Staff and had requested a complete briefing on Agency audit procedures. Gates and [ ] noted a recent consumer survey conducted by the PFIAB, the results of which were negative and not consistent with past responses by consumers which were positive.
